Executive Summary

The project Iniciativas de Investigación y Actividad Creativa Subgraduadas (iINAS) is funded by a grant from the Developing Hispanic-Serving Institutions Program - Title V, Department of Education. The primary goal of iINAS is to expand the University of Puerto Rico Rio Piedras Campus (UPR-RP) undergraduate faculty and student's capacity to conduct research on fields other than natural sciences. The iINAS three project strands are as follow: (1) expanding undergraduate faculty capacity to actively engage in research, (2) expanding research opportunities for undergraduate students, and (3) improve the institution's grant writing and fundraising capacity.

This report focuses on the external evaluation performed by the Division of Community Services of the Center for Evaluation and Sociomedical Research (CIES), Graduate School of Public Health, University of Puerto Rico Medical Sciences Campus. The project evaluation focused on the activities carried out within the School of Business Administration during the 2014-2015 year. The primary objectives of this evaluation were to assess participants' satisfaction with the trainings and workshop sessions supported by the iINAS project; usefulness and relevance for their professional development and collaborations established. The project contributions at the institutional level were also evaluated. The external evaluators analyzed previously collected data (secondary data analysis). A variety of evaluation instruments were considered during the analysis (i.e. self-administered questionnaires, testimonials, coordinators report, chancellor report, and funder reports).

A summary of the key findings by each of the iINAS project strand is presented below<sup>1</sup>.

STRAND 1: Expanding undergraduate faculty capacity to actively engage in research

- ★ Three Summer Research Institutes were offered and 55 Faculty participated.
- ★ 14 Summer Research Fellowships were awarded
- ★ Three mini-grants were awarded
- ★ 75 Faculty participated of the Research Capacity Enhancement Training
- ★ Most of the faculty participants reported an increase of knowledge in all the questionnaire items.

STRAND 2: Expanding research opportunities for undergraduate students

- ★ Third Undergraduate Research and Creation Colloquium (TESIC)
- ★ 269 undergraduate students participated in TESIC
- ★ 255 undergraduate students participated of the Research Capacity Enhancement Training
- ★ 5 SRCE research projects and 24 students
- ★ 5 Scholars in Residence participants
- ★ [IN]Genios' (Vol.1-Num 2 & Vol.2-Num 1) was published

<sup>1</sup> The progress of the activities was established based on the information available/accessible to the external evaluators.

STRAND 3: Improve the institution's grant writing and fundraising capacity

- ★ Grant-writing workshops provided

In conclusion, the annual evaluation confirmed the efforts of the iINAS project leadership to comply with its main goal and objectives. Overall, students and mentors were very satisfied with the program activities (research experiences) and resources (i.e. SRCE, Scholars in Residence, Faculty Summer Fellow Program). Furthermore, faculty, students and participants of the training sessions, workshops, and seminars reported high levels of satisfaction with the speakers, content and place (i.e. SRI, Research Capacity Enhancement Training, and Integration Seminars). In order to continue improving iINAS, the following recommendations are made:

- ✓ Incorporate a collaboration section in the evaluation questionnaire
- ✓ Increase student's participation in the Research Capacity Enhancement Trainings

Project Overview

The Developing Hispanic-Serving Institutions (DHSI) Program provides grants to assist Hispanic serving institutions (HSIs) to expand educational opportunities for, and improve the attainment of, Hispanic students. These grants also enable HSIs to expand and enhance their academic offerings, program quality, and institutional stability.

In 2010, the University of Puerto Rico, Rio Piedras (UPR-RP) received a five year competitive grant from the Department of Education (Title V-DHSI) to conduct the project Strengthening UPR-RP through development of a research-based academic culture. The project was named in Spanish as Iniciativas de Investigación y Actividad Creativa Subgraduadas (iINAS). The primary goal of iINAS is to expand UPR-RP undergraduate faculty and student's capacity to conduct research on fields other than natural sciences. Therefore, this initiatives effort has been directed to the Colleges of General Studies (Year 1), College of Social Sciences (Year 2), College of Education (Year 3), College of Humanities (Year 4) and the School of Business Administration (Year 5).

Mission

Enrich the academic offerings and improve the quality of undergraduate programs in UPR-Río Piedras, by increasing research and creative activity

The iINAS mission of enrich the UPR-Rio Piedras academic offering, research capacity, and institution stability will be accomplishing through a comprehensive three activities strands:

- ★ STRAND 1: Expanding Undergraduate Faculty Capacity to Actively Engage in Research
- ★ STRAND 2: Expanding Research Opportunities for Undergraduate Students
- ★ STRAND 3: Improve the institution's grant writing and fundraising capacity

The iINAS project strand #1 goal is to provide faculty training for effectively engaging in research activity and translating research experiences into undergraduate curriculum. To accomplish this goal a set of activities has been implemented. The specific activities of this strand are as follows: Research Capacity Enhancement Training, Faculty Summer Research Institute, Faculty Summer Fellows Program, and Seminar on Integration of Research, Discovery and Innovation Competencies in the Undergraduate Curriculum.

The iINAS project strand #2 target the undergraduate students. Three main activities have been implemented in order to accomplish this goal. The specific activities of this strand are as follows: Research Capacity Enhancement Training, Scholars in Residence, and Summer Research and Creative Activity Internship.

The iINAS project strand #3 activities (institutional level) comprehend the creation of an Office of Sponsored Program to streamline and facilitate external funding process (i.e. pre-post award, project transaction, reporting and technical assistance); implementation of fundraising workshops, and grant writing trainings.

Evaluation Purpose and Scope

The iINAS project hired the services of the Division of Community Services from the Center for Evaluation and Sociomedical Research (DSC-CIES, by its initials in Spanish), Graduate School of Public Health, University of Puerto Rico to conduct a process and outcome evaluation. DSC-CIES specializes in the evaluation of health programs, applied research on human service organizations, basic research on public health issues and the development of methods to measure program success. The DSC-CIES has conducted evaluation and research projects funded by government agencies on the mainland and the Island, as well as by private human service organizations seeking to use the evaluation in order to improve their policies or programs. Among these are projects funded by the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH), the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), the National Institute of General Medical Sciences (NIGMS), the Mental Health and Substance Abuse Prevention Administration of Puerto Rico (ASSMCA), the Human Resources and Occupational Development Council of Puerto Rico (HRODC), the Department of Corrections of Puerto Rico, the Academy of Medical Directors, Carlos Albizu University, and the Association of Teachers of Puerto Rico.

The DSC-CIES applied a collaborative partnership approach based on the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Stakeholder Engagement model (see Figure 1) with the iINAS in order to maximize the evaluation design process. Rather than act as an external entity to which responsibilities are assigned, the DSC-CIES/ iINAS partnership will have greater effectiveness by capitalizing on expertise brought by both entities. Therefore a series of coordination meetings were conducted through the evaluation process to ensure input from all parties.

The DSC-CIES team also applied an Integrative Evaluation Approach that combines participatory evaluation model, continuous quality improvement theory, and organizational development theory to catalyze the project goals (see Figure 2). This approach fosters continuous capacity building to enhance effective management, address organizational change, and promote collaborative efforts. Moreover, it actively engages stakeholders in developing the evaluation process and all stages of its implementation and incorporates structured organizational process for involving stakeholders into the strategic planning.

Therefore, improving organizational performance, strengthening resources and increasing participants' satisfaction.

Evaluation Goal

Determine students and faculty level of increased interest, knowledge, and involvement in research activities.

The project evaluation focused on the activities carried out within the School of Business Administration during the 2014-2015 year. The primary objectives of this evaluation were to assess participants' satisfaction with the trainings and workshop sessions supported by the iINAS project; usefulness and relevance for their professional development and collaborations established. The project contributions at the institutional level were also documented in this evaluation.

Methods and Procedure

A comprehensive document review was conducted at the beginning of the evaluation process. The federal funder guidelines, annual progress reports, and previous evaluation reports were examined by the DSC-CIES evaluators. Several meetings were held between the project staff and the evaluators to discuss the project documents and the evaluation data in order to establish the main focus of this report.

Moreover, the iINAS staff provided the evaluation instruments and databases collected during the 2014-2015 period. A variety of evaluation sources were considered during the analysis. A mix-method triangulation was conducted in order to gather a robust and comprehensive evaluation results (see Figure 3).

Evaluation Data Sources

- ✓ Activity satisfaction surveys- At the end of each seminar, workshop, or training session's participants completed a self-administered questionnaire. The instrument comprised 6 to 12 questions to assess participants' satisfaction with the following aspects: content, organization, facility, and speaker. The instrument also explored participants' perception of knowledge increase in the topic discussed.
- ✓ Pre-Post questionnaires- A self-administered questionnaire was implemented at the beginning and the end of the training sessions. The instrument questions were constructed according to each activity content. The questionnaires included approximately between 6 to 32 questions.
- ✓ Participants' testimonials- The faculty and students were asked to shared their experiences in a variety of project activities. The testimonials differ in terms of formats. Some of the formats used by the participants' were the following: short-narrative, power point presentations or collage of pictures.

- ✓ Program coordinators reports- The iINAS coordinators of the faculty initiative and student initiative gather information of the activities performed during the 2014-2015 period and developed a report. These reports described the implementation of the activities in terms of accomplishments and challenges. Students and faculty satisfaction were also documented in these reports.

The qualitative and quantitative data was analyzed using a variety of techniques. Excel and statistical packages for social sciences (SPSS) was used to analyze quantitative data. While content analysis was used to summarize testimonial data. As an important part of quality assurance, it is expected that analyzed data shall help sharpen the focus of projected goals and objectives. This is expected to occur through the adoption of relevant recommendations by iINAS stakeholders.

Faculty Integration Seminars

Description: The integration seminar initiative goal is to explore different educational strategies and methods to incorporate research, discovery, and innovation competencies across the undergraduate curriculum. A group of professors interested in develop research skills in their courses is selected to coordinate the seminars. Three faculty coordinators were selected for each seminar. The coordinators determine the content and resources needed for their seminars.

Activities & Participants: Four integration seminars were offered. A total of 41 faculty participated of the seminars. Below a description of the seminars.

Male student

The topic was new for my mentor and for me. Both had to study to master the topic because of its innovation...an enriching experience”

The professor was accessible; I did not have problem to meet with him anytime. However, when we meet I go out with the same doubts that I had. In our meetings basically what he does was to tell me where to find information (i.e. professional journals) or key terms for search in databases. In this research, who has helped me the most was professor Karen Castro. She helps me define my subject and develop the method. In summary, I do not feel interest by my [mentor], so I had to look for other alternatives.

Description: [IN]Genios is a digital peer reviewed journal for the publication of undergraduate students' work that was launched in May, 2014. Its mission is to stimulate the academic and creative productivity of undergraduate students at the UPR-RP. It offers opportunities for the dissemination of the best research articles and creative projects from UPR-RP campus. Undergraduate students from the different academic programs at UPR-RP campus can submit their projects. [IN]Genios gathers original research articles and creative projects whose principal authors are undergraduate students.

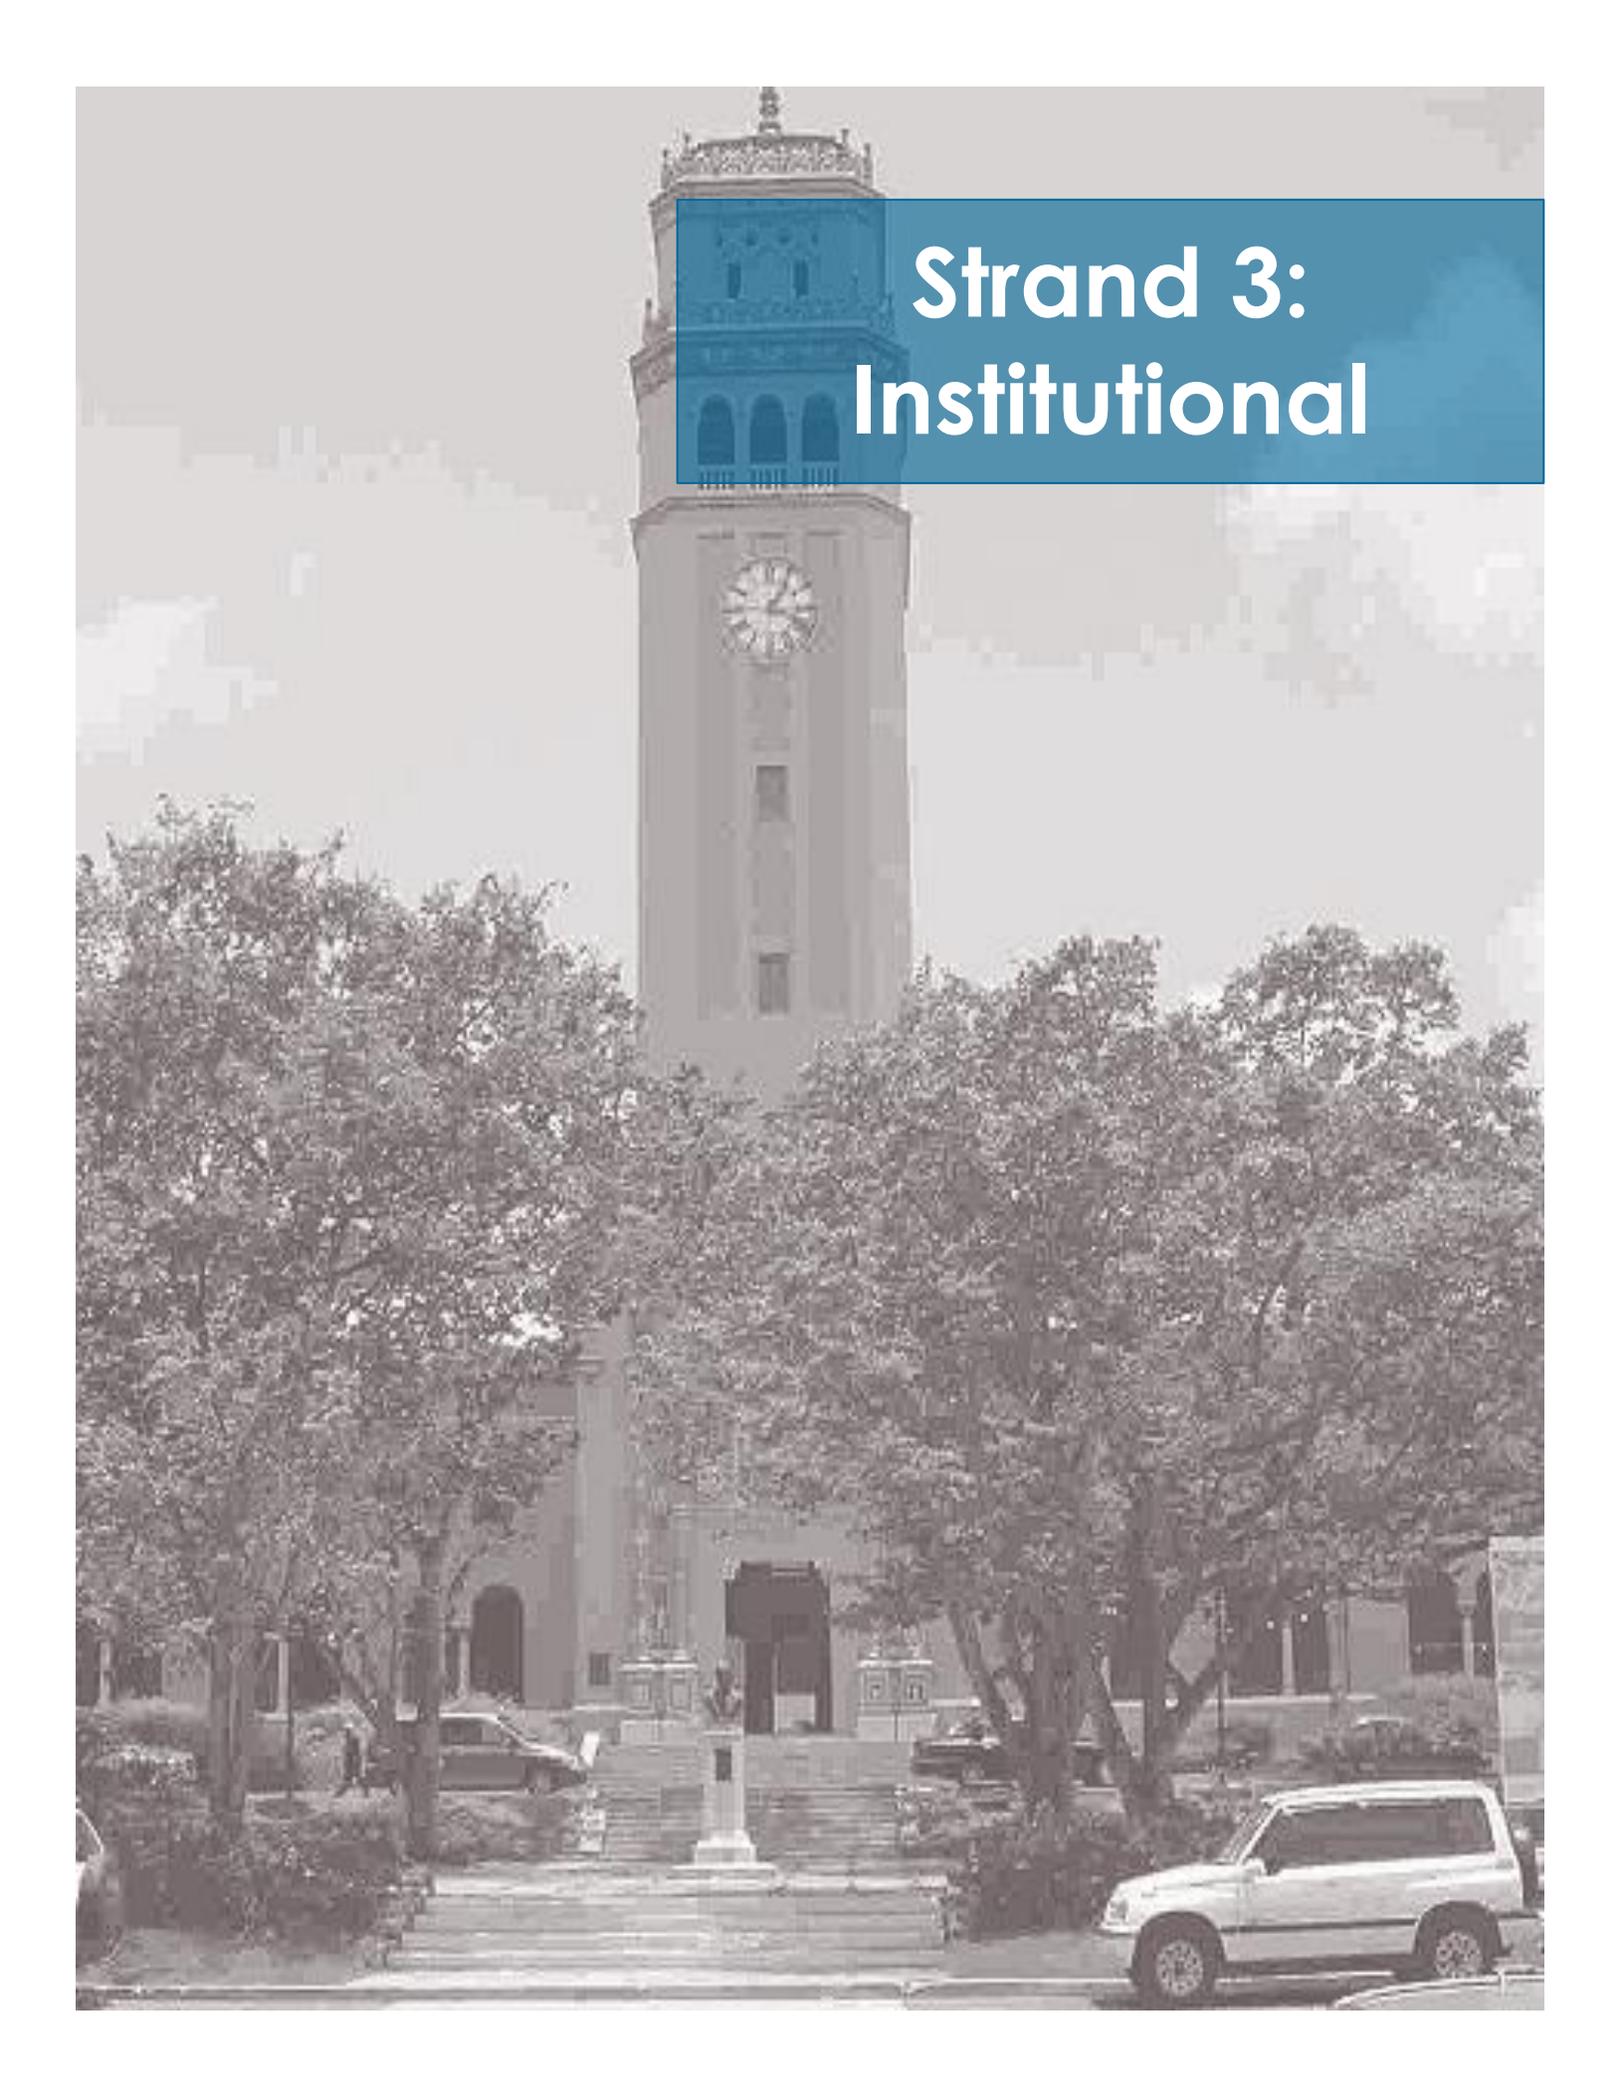

[IN]Genios' first volume (Num. 2) was published on February 2015 and on September 2015 the Vol 2 (Num 1). A combination of research articles and creative projects were included in these publications.

Strand 3: Institutional

Institutional Efforts

Description: The third strand of the iINAS project focused in strengthening the Institution's grant writing and fundraising capacity. In order to accomplish this goal a comprehensive Office of Sponsored Research will be developed to guide faculty through the pre and post award process. In addition, a series of grant writing workshops will be implemented in order to increase faculty's capacity on available funding sources and requirements.

Accomplishment: The table below summarize the expected outcomes and results for the institutional strand.

Recommendations

---

The main goal of iINAS is to undergraduate faculty and student's capacity to conduct research on fields other than natural sciences. The annual evaluation confirmed the efforts of the iINAS project leadership to comply with its main goal and objectives. Overall, students and mentors were very satisfied with the program activities (research experiences) and resources (i.e. SRCE, Scholars in Residence, Faculty Summer Fellow Program). Furthermore, faculty, students, and participants of the training sessions, workshops, and seminars reported high levels of satisfaction with the speakers, content and place (i.e. SRI, Research Capacity Enhancement Training, and Integration Seminars). In order to continue improving iINAS, the following recommendations are made:

- ✓ Increase dissemination of iINAS activities - This is an area for improvement identified by participants in several activities (i.e. TESIC, SRCE).
- ✓ Follow up the curriculum modules (mini-grants). Develop and implement a follow up interview for faculty (developer) and a survey to the undergraduate students (users/recipients) of the modules. The evaluation instruments main objective would be to document the usefulness, utility, challenges, lesson learned and eventually the impact of these modules in the undergraduates' research competencies.
- ✓ Incorporate a collaboration section in the evaluation questionnaire. The collaboration section will help document the following: (1) if participants initiated/establish a collaboration, and (2) brief description of the collaboration. This is highly recommended to the evaluation instruments implemented during the Faculty Integration Seminars, Faculty Summer Research Institute and the Undergraduate Research and Creation Colloquium.
- ✓ Increase student's participation in the Research Capacity Enhancement Trainings. This initiative is primary directed to students. It is expected that at least 50 students participate in each session. However, less than forty-students attended to each session.
- ✓ Develop and implement a tracking system. The next level in terms of iINAS evaluation would be to design and implement a tracking system to monitor iINAS students and faculty fellows' productivity (i.e. publications, presentations, new collaborations, grants). A tracking system would allow to better document program impact.
